The Closing of Fashion Week Marks The Beginning of Our

Fashion Season

Although tomorrow evening marks the official limit of the time set for "Fashion Week" our Fashion Season has just begun. The Fall Fashion Exhibit with its most unusual selling plan merely starts what promises to be the biggest garment season that we have ever known. The underpriced offerings that were announced early in the week are still at your disposal but as we anticipate a heavy day's business in the garment section tomorrow we would advise early selection.
